THE CHINA MAIL.
HONGKONG, MONDAY, JAN. 25, 1869.
In our Saturday's issue we gave an account of the recent disturbances at having been fired upon

Chinese and twelve men wounded two of it is feared mortally. The Gunboat Leven has already left for Swatow, and the Rinaldo and Persus are under orders to leave with a detachment of marines from the Rodney. Admiral Keppel being at Canton the Bowen went up on Saturday afternoon with despatches and the Admiral returns by to-day's steamer. He intends to proto Swatow in person, and will administer a lesson to the lent natives of that neighbourhood which will ensure freedom from molestation for Forensers for some time to come. We congratulate the peace-party, to whose efforts in repressing any demonstrations hostile to the Chinese we owe this and a long series of outrages, committed under the impression that they can be perpetrated with impunity, upon the highly successful results of their efforts. Shipping crosses a la Burlingame are likely to

rather as records of the de who have lost their lives in defending the Exeter-hall policy than as pointing out favourable spots for missionary labours. We admit with the distinguished diplomat who represents China (in any way he likes) at the Court of St. James, that China is "stretching out her arms" to the west—but they seem to be always muzzle foremost with powder and ball within. Admiral Keppel will doubt

The wounds inflicted were exceedingly severe. What adds to the mystery of the occurrence—for scarcely half an hour elapsed between his being conversed with and discovered murdered is, that he was the funeral of the late Mr. Holworthy was to take place at 6 p.m., with military honors; and we doubt not that an attendance as large as is possible will mark the occasion in which the crime committed was held. The French Consul, M. du Chesne, and the Chancellor of the Consulate, Mr. Hartung, had expressed their intention of accompanying the funeral to the cemetery—a mark of respect which will be duly appreciated by the military men in Garrison.

roner's inquest upon the body of the worthy was opened this afternoon.

Another "tale of the sea" has recently come to our knowledge, and the circumstances related to us are as follows: A vessel laden with coals for a port in China, sailed from Newcastle, N.S.W. There was a passenger on board, and it soon became evident to him—he being a certificated ship-master—that the captain knew very little of his business, and that his ready less vital than the heart. He was attended to, and the passenger took the ship into port safely, delivered the papers to the Consul under whose flag the ship was chartered, and reported the circumstances to the consignor. He had some expectation of obtaining the command of the ship, but expectation was "his only reward" for after being placed in charge for a few hours he was desired to take his departure without further ceremony. This is the tale, as it has been told to us. We have obtained from monitoring names, as it is possible that the story is incomplete in the absence of any version from the other side; but if it is true in the respect that the consignor did not make the passenger any payment for the services he had rendered to the ship, they did not display excessive liberality. To be sure, it may be argued that he saved his own life; but he might have done so if he had hoisted a signal of distress, and so attracted notice from another vessel, but then somebody would have been called on to pay salvage, which is now asked.

MR. MAY'S POLICE.

Mr May had a heavy day's work to-day; but our space admits of only a brief summary of the cases heard before him.
Wong-kim-chung, a coolie, was charged with the murder of Mr. Holworthy, a ship-boarder, at the Gap yesterday. It is believed that evidence may yet be forthcoming against this prisoner, who is an old offender.
Wong Aing, a steward on board the San Salvadorian ship America, was charged with having stolen $1,650, the property of the master of the said ship; the case was remanded.
It appears that a row took place yesterday morning between a number of Chinese men and sailors, arising from an attempt at robbery on suspicion of a Jahaj at Praya West. Bamboos and stones were flung pretty freely, and a party of Police, under Inspector Crook, had to rally forth to apprehend the ringleaders.
Nineteen were charged to-day, and eight were discharged by Mr May. The remainder were punished as follows:—One was sent to Goal for fourteen days, in default of a fine of $20; another was ordered to be flogged at the scene of the offence (10 strokes); and pay $50 or go to goal for a month; and all the others were ordered to pay $50, or go to hard labor for a month.
Lum Ah, an unemployed man, was ordered to pay $50, or go to hard labor for unlicensed vending of opium. The opium (about one pound) was forfeited.
A Chinese named Ahng, part-owner of a junk, was charged with unlawful possession of two balls of opium, and ultimately discharged upon showing from him he got the drug. But another case arose out of this one. Low Si-gi Hee, who supplied the opium, and sold it to the junk-man for $10 a ball, was charged with selling it. On the said opium-balls being again examined and otherwise examined, it was seen that the balls were crammed full of sand or some other substance other than opium, and the shell itself was a composition of no value, whatever, flavored only by some opium-drops.
The prisoner in the latter case was committed for trial at the Supreme Court.
Gilbert Kelly, chief officer, and Richard Ryan, 2nd officer of the British ship Douglass, were charged with a violent assault upon a Peking junk, carpenter or sailmaker, on board the said vessel. It appears that Jensen has been in Hospital for some days, his jaw having been broken during the commission of the alleged assault. Prisoners were bailed each in £100, and remained.

THE MURDER AT THE GAP.

Probably for the last dozen years Hongkong has not been so suddenly horrified by bad news as it was yesterday by the tale of murder which was passed round during the afternoon. People had almost come to look upon the Colony as safe, in almost any corner, when the opposite reality burst upon them; the old days of insecurity, violence and death-dealing appeared to have returned; and, comparatively, security and order, foolishly, suddenly, and suddenly shook and unsettled. And all may be the community so feel, when one of Her Majesty's officers is battered to death in one of the most-frequented recreation roads in the neighbourhood.

Mr Holworthy, one of the Deputy Assistant Superintendents on the Military Store Staff, was brutally murdered and robbed during the afternoon of yesterday, on the Poko-lum side of the road to the Gap. The facts, so far as they can be gathered at present, are such that scarcely any light whatever can be thrown upon the mysterious tragedy; but these, such as they are, are somewhat as follows.

Depressed (who was proverbially a gentleman fond of athletic sports and hardy training) left his house yesterday forenoon between eleven and twelve o'clock to take a walk. Taking the Pokoklum Road, he arrived at the Reservoir Works at one o'clock, and there passed a few words with an engineer stationed there named Pearson.
Mr Holworthy then turned homeward into the "Gully" leading to the Gap, along the ridge of which there is a footway of no great breadth; and he had gone the greater part of this path when he was attacked.
As the unfortunate gentleman often walked this way, and always wore a watch and heavy chain, it is presumed that he must have been marked out as a special object of plunder by means of the favorite "knock-down" system of highway robbery. The most likely manner adopted by the ruffians would seem to have been, that they lay under the footway until the poor fellow had passed, and then stealthily and suddenly attacked with the usual confidence from behind. Poor Mr Holworthy was found about 12.30 p.m. by Mr Humphreys (of the Hongkong Dispensary) who along with his wife, had started for the Gap about half an hour after noon, going up in the Albany. When found, deceased was quite dead and almost cold, while a favorite bill-dog lay snuffing and snarling by his side. It was clearly apparent that a dreadful murder had been committed, as the face and head of deceased showed ghastly wounds; but shocked as Mr Hun-phreys and his wife must have been, they at once turned back and gave an alarm in town, arriving at a few minutes before two at Mr Hazland's house at the Albany, and at the Hazland Room by 2 o'clock. On the report being made at the Station, the Acting Superintendent (Mr Deane) was
at once "about" messages were sent to all the Stations, and everything which could be thought of at the moment was done. After which Dr Cochran and the Acting Superintendent proceeded together to the scene of the murder, where the body was still lying.

Dr Cochran, who was the first to identify the body as that of Mr Holworthy, made a hasty examination, and found that deceased had been brutally assaulted, and murdered by means of blows on the head and face. Blood was oozing from the nose and mouth, and the left side of the face and neck presented a very blackened and bruised appearance; the medical gentleman gave it as his opinion that deceased had been dead for about an hour or more; and Mr Deane observed that the murdered gentleman's watch and chain were gone.
The body was removed to the Civil Hospital in the course of the evening, and a post mortem examination was this morning being made.

The shortness of time (20 minutes) which elapsed between the time deceased was seen by the engineer at Pokoklum in lusty health, and the time when he was found dead—murdered—by the Dispensary gentleman, shows that the tragedy was not only one of the most sensational and shocking, but the most sudden of execution and carefully planned, which has been committed in Hongkong for very many years. Another fact which shows how swiftly the ruffians must have finished their horrible work is, found in the entire absence of any newly-made mark upon the bill-dog accompanying deceased. If, as is most likely, the dog had been at some distance in front or behind, how quickly must the ugly deed have been done, and the murderer off, in most apparent; for, had the dog been part in the short but deadly struggle, and have either showed marks, have fixed some of the murderers, or raised a bark or howl which might have been heard near by. The blows, as shown by the post mortem examination, are probably four or five (or more), and appear to have been given with a blunt instrument, such as a hammer or a heavy stick. The principal wound is made from a blow on the back of the head, which, causing compression on a most vital part of the brain, must have resulted in almost instantaneous death. In addition to this, there are marks of blows on the left arm, on the shoulder, and the hand; while the face shows a slight cut under the nose, and three or four of the teeth are crushed in. Mr Holworthy was a very powerful man, and it is supposed that he must have been at once disabled by the first blow, probably from behind, though it is difficult to account for the multiple wounds in the view of the plunder being the sole motive for the robbery.

Murders are commonly looked upon as horrible or otherwise in degrees according to the motive prompting, or the objects to be attained, by the deed. But the crime which lies at the door of the murderer of Mr. Holworthy would appear to be distinctively from the barbarity of its execution, the apparent want of sufficient motive, and the insignificant object attained. The gold watch and chain robbed from the victim of this terrible crime appears in Western eyes to be entirely insignificant to account for a deed apparently arranged and carried out with an address worthy of infernal agency. The holder or bar of the chain, with one or two of the chain-links, remained fixed in the button-hole of deceased's vest; and this, as yet, seems to be the only chance of obtaining proof of who committed the murder. A scarf-pin, studs and sleeve-links, with a dollar or two in money, were left; and everything goes to show that the murderers had barely time to snatch the watch and take themselves off, ere Mr Humphreys's party appeared.

As we have already said, the authorities deserve all praise for the steps they took,
and the manner they took them, immediately upon learning the terrible news. H. E. the Governor was all promptitude, wisdom and shrewdness, and some steps were taken by his own direction. The Acting Superintendent of Police threw his usual energy into the matter with commendable results, and although we do not deem it advisable to say what has been done, or is doing, we can assure the public that all that can be effected with the means at the disposal of the Colony, is being done, to trace and capture the cowardly villains who have committed this foul and daring crime.
Five Hundred Dollars have been offered as a reward in the case; and at this season of the year, such is a very strong stimulation to many Chinese. The Canton steamer man was searched, who she left the Wharf; but as no clue has been found, so far as we can learn, these proceedings measures cannot be expected to result in much. Two Europeans of shabby appearance are said to have been seen by Mr Humphreys on his way, when nearing the Gap; and four Chinese were observed lo-lling about that neighbourhood earlier in the day. One Chinaman (an old offender) was found, not far from the spot, yesterday evening, and was charged with having been concerned in the murder; but though he was found in possession of a bamboo, nothing has been proved against him.
The capture, conviction and punishment of the offenders would be partial satisfaction; but the effects of the criminal satisfaction; upon the young widow and the children of the deceased gentleman can only be effaced by time. Universal sympathy is felt for those who have thus ruthlessly been bereaved, and this feeling has been mingled with that of indignation and chagrin that this little island has not yet been made secure from personal injury, even to men in positions such as that of the gentleman whose death has now to be deplored.

THE NORTH.

Latest dates from Shanghai are to the 19th instant.
(N. O. Herald.)
The following ships have arrived at Sanghai during the fortnight:—Benal and Dorthea from Cardiff; Spindrift, Ariel, Corsair, Kate Carlie, Taping, Agnyon, Lakon, Corsair, London; Kate Carlie, New York; Zephyrus, Newcastle, N. W.; Northfield, Lian, wife, had started for the Gap about half an hour after noon, going up in the
report being made at the Station, the

It is an ill wind that blows no good, and the temporary discomfort to which some Shanghai sportsmen were subjected, has given occasion for a display of kindness towards them by the officials, and courtesy by the Tao-tai, which will not be lost.
On their return they of course offered to refund any expenses incurred in sending them back; but the Tao-tai most courteously declined the offer. His excellency considers a matter for congratulation, that the local officials have had the good feeling which they entertain towards foreigners. (These remarks hardly agree with the account given of the difficulty in getting any aid from the local officials. Ed. O. C. M.)

A valuable addition has been made to the strength of the Fire brigade, by the enrolment of thirty tide-waters as a Fire Police, who are placed under the orders of Mr Chief Engineer Hayes.
(N. O. Daily News.)
A Tientsin correspondent writes under date of 8th December 1898:— Up to the afternoon of Christmas day, the weather had continued very fine, I might almost say very mild; the river having continued quite open from Tientsin to Tientsin, so that steamers could have come up perfectly easily to the Tientsin settlement anchorage, up till noon on Christmas day.
Soon after midday on the 26th, the wind veered round from South-East to N. N. W., and kept on increasing till power till midnight, when it blew terribly. And since then, up to this present moment, we have had a strong N. N. W. gale. On the morning of the 29th instant, the river was frozen over, and people walked across it during the course of the day, and have continued doing so since. Owing to the intensity of this gale, however, there are still patches free from ice; but we may consider the river to be now closed, and it will, when the gale ends, be frozen over the whole length to the sea. The thermometer this morning at sunrise stood at 7° Fahrenheit.

We hear scarcely any news of interest to foreigners, from Peking or the interior; one might almost fancy that the news had been frozen up on route to this—like the tines in the conductor's horn, as narrated by Baron Munchausen—and that we shall hear none again till the spring sun allows it to thaw. Having already got through all our last papers of London 9th October, we feel the death of news very much! I hear, however, a bit to the effect that Governor General Tseng Kwong-fan will pass through here on his way to Peking, some 12 or 15 days hence, where his goes to have an audience of the Emperor before proceeding to his post at Pootung-foo, the capital of the provinces. I suppose he comes via Tientsin to confer with Chung-hong on military matters, before settling down in his yamen.

Gau-yun-tung, a eunuch of the imperial palace, sent, rumor says, to Tientsin by the Empress, to offer incense to some particular deity in this place, paid to-day a long visit to Mr. Meadows, the Danish Consul, as well as to other residents, attended by a numerous retinue of young ladies—a large tail of Highland chiefs were wont in past times to have on certain formal occasions. He stated himself to be 32 years of age, and appeared like the usual Peking mandarins, whom one occasionally sees here.
He said he had come to Tientsin to see the place, and to see foreigners and their residences. He was told if he visited Tientsin when the river would be open, he would see steamers; and Tientsin under more fiavorable circumstances than at present. He said he would come again in spring, during the third moon. I think he was sent by the Empress to let her know regarding foreign matters, for her own information and the Emperor's. And looking upon the visit in this light, I consider it a move in the right direction by the Empress.

Taken in connexion with the experience of the gentlemen who lately lost their boat up country, the despatch from the Tao-tai lately published by the French Consul General, may be read with profit. His Excellency says, creek pirates are numerous near Shan-king-wei; and that rowdy foreigners, are in the habit of aiding them.
His begs, accordingly, that the several Counsuls will impress on their countrymen the necessity for carrying passports, to enable the guardboats there stationed to descendants between the latter and lawful exor-cists. Probably foreigners do not much fear the pirates; but it is air to give the Ching government the opportunity they want of stoppage of the river. And sportsmen who may neglect to provide themselves with passports can hardly complain if they are hindered, after this fair notice. The Chinese evidently distrust non-passport-bearing foreigners, as the gentlemen to whom we alluded at the outset, found.
Having left their guarantees of character in the boat, they had some difficulty at first in persuading the officials that they were entitled to the aid they claimed.

(Recorder.)

It is reported that Sir Rutherford Alcock purposes to make a circuit of the open ports during the coming summer, in order, we presume, to gain vivid impressions of their wants and capacities, for the enlightenment of the Foreign Office on his return to England.

The Western Chief in signalling with the Serica, reported having spoken the Sir Janet on the 27th Dec., and that she had been on shore; but owing to the stiff breeze that was blowing at the time the Western Chief did not learn where, or whether she had sustained any damage.

The Lakon has made the run out in 100 days, beating the Taping by 6 days. The Serica left London the same day as the Lakon but was beaten by her by nearly one day and a half, having made the passage out in a little over 101 days. The almost neck and neck races which these vessels have made is most astonishing, and we anticipate will add considerably to the excitement when the season for betting on the homeward voyages arrives.
The Serica under her new commander, formerly her chief officer, seems determined to keep up the reputation which she earned under Captain James, who made the first passage out in less than 90 days.
The race out has as yet been won by the Lakon, but there is still the Titania and Leander to arrive, and we should not be surprised if one of these carry off the palm.

On dit that the Chinese Government at Peking is not indisposed to make large concessions towards opening up the country and introducing foreign appliances. It is somewhat difficult to reconcile this new attitude of affairs with the position voluntarily taken up by the British Minister with regard to the effect of foreign trade on the internal prosperity of the country. We refer especially to Sir Rutherford Alcock's celebrated speech at Kiangling in 1897.
It will be remembered that some time ago rumours were current that an attack had been made on the missionaries resident at Kiangling in Chekiang. We are happy to learn that no official information of any such outrage has been received.

Piracy seems still to be rampant on the coast of Fukien and Kwangtung. We learn that within the last few months the crews of several junks attacked in those waters have been forwarded by the local authorities to Shanghai. We presume the necessary funds are obtained from squeezes levied on the pirates as hush money.

In reference to the statement that appeared as to the acquiescence of the Custom House officers in the offer made by Mr Dick to the Municipal Council of their services as auxiliaries to the Police in cases of fire, we learn that they held a meeting when the action of the Commissioner was strongly objected to, as he had not consulted them before making the offer of their services. They are perfectly willing to do all that lies in their power either individually or collectively as an independent fire-brigade, for the extinction of fire, or for the protection of property in the settlement, as they did before when it was threatened by the rebels.

(Courier.)

On the 14th inst. a warrant from the Chief Clerk of the Yamen was executed in the settlement without any reference to the Police. The arrested party was boy-ever taken to the Malacca Magistrate, and ever confined in the city. The case was one of those of disputed ownership, which have lately frequently been brought forward. These promiscuous arrests are considered to create misunderstandings between the Foreign authorities and the City mandarins, and we are glad to hear that they are taken notice of when discovered, by the Municipal Council.

(Friend of China.)

From Tientsin we learn that the River as far as Taku remained open until Christmas-day, and that many Europeans and Chinese were waiting there in full expectation that another trip of the Nanjing would enable them to leave for the South. Disappointed in this and tired of waiting, many of the party have travelled overland. Business was extremely dull at Tientsin.
News has been received per Aden from Yokohama, that Captain Oate has disposed of the wreck of his steamer the Nangeto to the Head-man of the place near which she was lost, for the sum of six thousand Boos, ($2000). Captain Oate himself had arrived at Yokohama in command of the Steamer Tasman.

The steamer Douglas arrived in port on the 16th, from Pootung-foo, and brings the welcome intelligence of the safety of the American ship Surprise, which unfortunately came to grief on the South bank of the River Min. She was moved by the steamer Douglas from the bed which she had made for herself and was towed to Pootung-foo by one of H.M.'s Gunboats. A very large quantity of the Tees has been damaged, and does not appear to have sustained any material injury but was to have gone into dock yesterday. She was, however, leaking badly, but there was no difficulty in keeping the water under. It is said that the Douglas will come in for a big salvage. The Surprise is well known in these waters, having been a regular and successful trader to China for the last ten years. At New York, before she left for China, she underwent a thorough repairing, in fact she was almost rebuilt, a sum of 90,000 dollars having been expended on her. She is now almost dismantled, and any unrecognized outlay will be expended before she is again ready for sea.

JAPAN.

Our dates from Japan are to the 14th instant.

(Japan Herald.)

On Monday, the 14th inst., audience was given to their Excellencies the French, Dutch, and Italian Ministers, and on Tuesday, the 15th inst., the same honour was accorded to the American, North German and English representatives. They were all attended by such of their countrymen as they thought proper to introduce; and were attended by their respective legations, by a body of Japanese troops in addition to those who had from their own national ships.
The presence of the French and English Ministers were really very striking, and the latter introduced collectively, not one, but one, besides Messrs. Gower, Fletcher and Willis, of the Consular body, a number of British officers.

On the 9th inst., at 3 p.m., a review of H.M. 1st Batt, 10th Regiment took place on the avenue, before H. E. Sir Harry Parkes, C. O. B., the Prince of Awa, Shijo Kuji and three kuge. Lady Parkes, Mrs.
Norman, and a great number of the foreign residents of Yokohama, as well as Japanese were present. Colonel Norman was in command, and the men were put through a variety of evolutions, which they executed in their usual splendid style. Twenty-five rounds of blank cartridge had been served out, and all were very much pleased, and not a little astonished, at the rapid fire kept up with the Snider rifle.

The Prince of Awa is now the only prominent daimio left in Yedo; all others having gone home.

The following decision in the cases of Kingdon, a Wilkin and Robson has been given by the Court decrees, therefore, that the defendants bear three-fourths of the loss of the transaction, and plaintiff one-fourth, as being the most equitable mode of adjustment under all the circumstances of so complicated a case. Costs of Court to be borne in the same proportion. The defendants, have given notice of appeal.

The Satellite from Yokohama arrived at Hakodate on the 17th inst., at 6 p.m., and being mistaken for a French ship was saluted with 21 guns by the Commandant there (Japanese).

On the 6th a battle was fought at Ono 12 miles distant, between 800 Southern and 800 Northern, resulting in the total rout of the Southern forces, who fled to Hakodate in great confusion.
On the evening of the 8th all Southern troops were embarked on board the Kango no Kani and Tampo, and together with all government officials here left for Avoncor bay and landed there reached 20 miles to the interior of Chuguro territory where they still remain, very much scared. On the morning of the 9th the Northern or Tokugawa troops together with their fleet took quiet possession of Hakodate, and attack organizing a temporary Government, left in force for Matsmai, landed on Fukushima, and engaged the Matsmai troops.
The Matsmai had reached us from there, Matsmai had been burnt (the city), the troops whipped, and were in full flight for Akha on junks seized for the occasion.

The "Eagle" ("Tokugawa") returned from Matsmai this A.M., and confirmed the report; so that now the Tokugawas consider the island of Yesso as theirs by conquest, and evidently intend to hold it. The place is quiet, and no disturbances have occurred or are anticipated. The ground though frozen is quite free from snow.
The Yamas anchored with the Satellite and the Ayas on the morning of the 10th.
The Kayo, Eagle, Ashuelot, (captured), and a three-masted schooner now compose the Tokugawa fleet in this harbour, others are on duty elsewhere.

A formal reception has been accorded by the Mikado to the whole of the foreign ministers. This is naturally regarded as confirmation of the friendly spirit of the new Government. The Mikado seems to have disappointed his visitors. He is described as a languid worn-out looking boy.

(Japan Herald.)

A Yedo "pioneer" informs us that, on the 1st inst., the Saitancho and the Custom House at the Kiyu, the district in which the foreign settlements and Hotel lie, were open and thronged with officials who seemed patiently awaiting the coming trade; our friend naively adds, of course, there is nothing doing, yet and judging from the accommodation visible for the storage of goods, no very gigantic commercial operations are looked for at present.

The city has been opened under a system of passports, which has aroused the ire of some of our residents, though many are ready to acknowledge his policy and advantages of the plan.

Our latest advices from Hakodate are to the 3rd instant to have per steamer Augusta, on the 10th instant, at which date all was quiet. The place remains still in the hands of Enomoto the Tokugawa admiral.

The P. & O. str. Azof arrived on the 10th inst. from Higo, where things remained still in a quiet state. But little business was doing, owing, no doubt, to the approaching festive new year, which generally causes a lull in trade, even in the most thriving times, for some four or five weeks prior to the season of festivity and recess from all business operations.

By the Manila, which arrived on the 5th inst., we are in receipt of Nagasaki items of news to the 30th ultimo, amongst which may be noted the loss of the North German ship Cornelia bound from Hongkong to Yokohama. The vessel was wrecked on the 14th in the vicinity of the Lew Chew group.
The crew succeeded, however, in reaching a small island where they remained for a fortnight being then all rescued by a Japanese junk and subsequently landed at Kagoshima; they were finally transhipped to the steamer Mercury which conveyed them to Nagasaki. All speak gratefully of the kind attention received from the Japanese.

Some slight delay was occasioned last week in the departure hence of the steamer Suzuki for Hakodate; the Japanese Authorities wishing to detain her on account of certain arms forming part of her cargo, which they imagined might reach the hands of their enemies at the North; the occupation of Hakodate by the rebels, however, does not close that Treaty port to foreign trade and the vessel consequently left for her destination on the day following her advertised departure.

(Nagasaki Times.)

An amusing story in a teapot has occurred in the shape of a civil war on one of the Goto Islands.

It appears the place boasts of two Dainos, one of whom has territory greatly in excess of the other. For a long time there has been a dispute regarding the boundaries of these mighty principdoms, which are not well defined, and a few days since the quarrel broke out into open warfare. Reports say that 80 people have been killed and the fighting is still going on. The Vice-Governor has left this in the Herald, for the scene of the conflict, to endeavour to settle the dispute, which we presume will not be a very Herculean task. Another rumour has it that the disturbances have been caused through persecution of Christians, but we do not think such is the case.
A quarrel has broken out between the Prince of Satsuma and Higo.
The cause of the quarrel is said to be the presentation of the island of Aikawa to Higo, by the Mikado's Government, as a reward for service rendered during the late war. To this Satsuma is said to object, as he does not wish his neighbour to have any increase of territory. Higo is just as determined on his side, and has taken possession of Ama-kusa, from which Satsuma is determined to drive him, and he has sent down troops from Higo for that purpose.

GENERAL BUTLER ON THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

The New York correspondent of the London Morning Herald says:
Mr. Butler seeks to be the leader of the Radical party in the new House of Representatives, and to wield the whip once more effectively by Thaddeus Stevens. Accordingly he employs every means to keep his name before the public. But it is with reference to the Alabama claims and the relations existing between the United States and England that Butler has fully unbosomed himself, and that his great military genius and love for war and the shock of battles first became apparent. I give in full the doughty general's remarks upon these topics.

"I think Reverdy Johnson is making a fool of himself and dragging the country through the mire in the face of all England.
There is no such feeling of amity on the subject of our differences with England as Johnson represents. In deceiving John Bull in making him suppose that we are so poor in spirit, as to forget the recognition of the rebellion as a belligerent power in the demand of Mason and Slidell, the rebel agents, and his sweeping our commerce from the ocean through rebel adventures, of a Money Order, or to renew a lapsed Order. The additional Commission in the last case will be deducted from the amount of the new Order. Lapsed Orders must be presented with the application for a new Order.

12.—But, when it is desired that any error in the name of the Remitter or Payee should be corrected, or that the amount of a Money Order should be repaid to the Remitter, or that a Lapsed Order should be renewed for payment in the Country in which the Order was originally drawn, application must be made to the Chief Money Order Office of such Country. This application must be accompanied by an additional Commission, unless it have reference to a Lapsed Order, in which case the Commission will be deducted from the amount of the new Order.

13.—Repayment whether of an original, or renewed, or a duplicate Order, will not be made to the remitter until it has been ascertained that the Order has been cancelled at the Office on which the Order was originally drawn.

14.—Payment of an Order must be obtained before the end of the Sixth Calendar Month after that in which it was drawn; for instance, if drawn in January, payment must be obtained before the end of July, otherwise the Order will become lapsed, and a new Order (for which a second Commission will be deducted from the amount of the Order, will be charged) will become necessary.

15.—If an Order be not paid before the end of the Twelfth Calendar Month after that in which it was drawn, for instance, if drawn in January and not paid before the end of the following January—all claim to the Money will be forfeited, unless, under peculiar circumstances, the Post Office of the Country in which the Order was drawn think proper to allow it.

16.—After once paying a Money Order by whomsoever presented, the paying Office will not be liable to any further claim. If a wrong payment, however, be made owing to negligence on the part of any Officer of the Post Office, the Postmaster General of the Country or Colony in which the negligence occurs will, if he see fit, require the Officer in fault to make good the loss.

17.—No Money Order will be paid unless the advice has been previously received.

18.—Additional Rules for greater security against fraud, and for the better working of the system generally will be made as occasion may require.

19.—Should it appear that Money Orders are used by mercantile men, or others, either in the United Kingdom or at Hongkong, Shanghai or Yokohama, for the transmission of large sums of money, the British or Colonial Post Office, as the case may be, will consider the propriety of increasing the Commission, and will exercise the power of wholly suspending for a time the issue of Money Orders.
